Catalog Description

Finance for the Professional. Credit 1 to 4. Focuses on investment and financing decisions in corporate firms; emphasis on principles, techniques and applications in corporate finance including risk and return, capital budgeting, discounted cash flow valuation, capital structure, and payout policy. Classification 6 students may not enroll in this course. Prerequisite: ACCT 610 or equivalent; enrollment is limited to BUAD classification 7.

Additional Course Details

Focuses on investment and financing decisions in corporate firms; emphasis on principles, techniques, and applications in corporate finance, including risk and return, capital budgeting, discounted cash flow valuation, capital structure, and payout policy.

FINC 612: Finance for the Professional equips students with a broad understanding of finance and with the specific skill of valuation, also known as capital budgeting. More simply, FINC 612 teaches students how to think like a CFO of a business.

As a core course in the Flex Online MBA program, FINC 612 prepares all students to make important financial decisions within a business or to at least understand how financial decisions are made. For students specializing in finance, this course is a first step to securing a job in a CFO's office or a finance-related job in another area. Even for entrepreneurial students, this course is essential for making value-enhancing decisions.

Course Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course, students will be able to:

- Produce a business proposal by analyzing future business projects and deciding whether to invest.
- Calculate the weighted average cost of capital for a specific business by producing a three-page report detailing interest rates and company risks.
- Formulate strategic recommendations for financial decision-making by evaluating complex scenarios, synthesizing data from multiple sources, and conducting sensitivity analysis.

Grading Policy

Grades will be assigned based on the following learning activity categories.

Assignment Groups and Weights

Assignment Groups and Weights
Learning Activity	Total Points	Total Weights
Perusall Assignments	20	5%
Quizzes	70	25%
Group and Individual Assignments	50	25%
Major Individual assignments	40	40%
Getting Started	20	5%
Interactive Lessons	0	0%
TOTAL	200	100%

Grading Scale

A – 90-100%

B – 80-89.5%

C – 70-79.5%

D – 60-69.5%

F – 59.5% or lower

Retake: 59.5% or lower

Note: Final calculated percentage scores ending in 0.5% or higher will be rounded up to the next whole percentage point, which may result in achieving the next letter-grade cutoff (e.g., 89.5% rounds up to 90.0%, earning an A). Scores ending in a fractional percentage below 0.5% (e.g., 89.4%) will not be rounded down and will be assigned the lower letter grade according to the official cutoff schedule (A=90.0%, B=80.0%, C=70.0%).

Learning Activities

The goal of this course is to provide you with relevant knowledge, skills, and experiences that will help you achieve the learning objectives of this course. You are encouraged to fully participate in this course for an impactful learning experience. There are different due dates for most of the assignments. It is your responsibility to meet these deadlines.

Each week will begin on a Monday and end on a Sunday. However, new material opens on Saturday at 12:00 am CT one week before the module starts. All assignments (unless otherwise stated) will be due on Sundays at 11:59 pm.

There are a variety of learning activities in the course, including:

Perusall Assignments – Two assignments use Perusall to foster critical thinking and collaborative discussion about key perspectives on the purpose of a firm. Through reading, commenting, and engaging with peers, you'll critically reflect on the ethical and strategic considerations businesses face.

Quizzes – Each quiz in this course provides an opportunity to practice the formulas and calculations introduced in the modules. These quizzes are designed to reinforce your understanding of key concepts and help you build the technical skills needed for success in financial analysis.

Minor Individual Assignment – These assignments focus on applying key concepts such as the time value of money, bond pricing, break-even analysis, and sensitivity analysis. Through practice problems and scenario-based questions, you'll strengthen your ability to perform financial calculations and analyses essential for decision-making in real-world business contexts.

Minor Group Assignment – These group assignments are designed to build foundational skills and introduce the types of tasks featured in the major group assignments. Through collaboration, you'll practice crafting professional deliverables, including corporate statements, financial analyses, and strategic reports. These activities help you refine analytical, problem-solving, and communication skills essential for financial decision-making and teamwork.

Major Group Assignment – The major group assignments challenge you to apply advanced financial concepts to complex, real-world scenarios. These projects build on the skills developed in the minor assignments and require deep collaboration and critical thinking. You will evaluate significant financial decisions, perform detailed analyses, and present professional reports with clear recommendations. These assignments are comprehensive, designed to separate those who have mastered the material from those who have not.

Interactive Lesson – Each module includes my assigned readings, designed to supplement the main material with essential context and background. These concise readings are crucial for getting the most out of the week's Cohort Session and assignments. While ungraded, they are a required component of the course and must be completed on time to ensure you are fully prepared for each week's tasks. Full engagement with these readings is expected, just as with any other required course content.

Cohort Sessions

Cohort sessions are our live virtual meetings, held weekly unless otherwise specified in the course schedule. Each session will take place via Zoom and will last for 90 minutes. These meetings are designed to give you the opportunity to interact directly with the course instructors and teaching assistants, receive live feedback, and engage in cohort session learning activities.

Session Time

Day of the Week: Tuesday

Meeting Time: 6:00 pm to 7:30 pm, Central

First Meeting: Tuesday, January 13, 2025

Session Zoom Links

You will find links to the Zoom meetings for the cohort sessions by selecting "Zoom Pro 1.3" from the course navigation menu in Canvas. You may choose to use the shortcut "Cohort Sessions" tile from the course homepage.

Late Work Policy

Work submitted by a student as makeup work for an excused absence is not considered late work and is exempt from the late work policy (Student Rule 7).

Course Specific Late Work Policy

Assignments submitted after the deadline will incur an automatic 25% deduction if submitted within the first 24 hours past the due date. Assignments submitted between 24 and 48 hours late will incur an additional 25% deduction (50% total). After 48 hours, the assignment will be locked, and late submissions will no longer be accepted. Exceptions will only be made in documented, extraordinary circumstances.

Course Schedule

The table below provides an overview of the learning modules and their associated topics, learning materials, and learning activities. Each learning module is identified by a number and a week. The Date column shows the start date for each module, but it does not show the due date for the learning materials and learning activities. You can locate the due dates for the learning materials and learning activities in the course modules.

Additional Course Information

This space is for any course-specific information not provided in other sections. This section is optional.

This course relies heavily on the Canvas learning management system and other learning tools such as Articulate Rise. You MUST have access to strong, reliable internet connections. You are expected to consider this requirement when starting an online assignment or assessment. "Poor internet connection" does not constitute an excuse for late work or missed assignments. If you experience internet difficulty, you are to report the issue to the instructor immediately.

Cohort sessions will take place via Zoom. The same Zoom link will be used for all class sessions and will be made available to you via Canvas. You should log in with your authorized TAMU Zoom account. You are encouraged to familiarize yourself with Zoom functions before class and ensure you have a working microphone and speakers (or headphones, if preferred). You may stay muted to avoid distracting background noise or audio feedback/echo. You are highly encouraged but not required to turn on your camera during cohort sessions. You can use the Flex Online Zoom background generator to create a Zoom background for this course. You may ask questions or make comments during the cohort session using the chat function, the "raise hand" function, or by unmuting and asking questions aloud.

Program/Department Policies

All Mays Flex Online courses should include these statements about attendance in a Flex Online course.

Attendance

Mays Business School views attendance in a Flex Online course as active and timely engagement in all course activities. Failure to engage consistently may impact your overall performance and grade in the course. This includes:

- Discussion Forums: Regular and meaningful participation in discussion forums is required. Students should contribute to discussions on a weekly basis, responding to prompts and engaging with peers' posts to foster a collaborative learning environment.
- Assignments: All assignments must be completed and submitted by the specified deadlines. Timely submission is essential for keeping up with the course material and ensuring fair assessment.
- Cohort Sessions: While attendance at weekly cohort sessions, held via Zoom, is highly recommended, there may be times when attendance is not possible due to work commitments, family obligations, or time zone differences. Sessions will be recorded and made available for later viewing. Students are expected to watch the recordings and stay current with the material covered.

College Policies

This section details college-level policies established by the Deans and Department Heads of Mays Business School.

Mays Statement on Outside Resources

Students must complete all graded work independently. For team-based assignments, work should be completed independently within your assigned team. Using work completed by someone else outside of your team or class is considered academic dishonesty.

This includes but is not limited to work obtained through face-to-face conversations, phone calls, text messages, instant messages, chats, Slack exchanges, emails, social media posts, tutoring sites, discussion forums, blogs, and similar platforms.

University Policies

This section outlines the university-level policies that must be included in each course syllabus. The TAMU Faculty Advisory Council established the wording of these policies.

Makeup Work Policy

Students will be excused from attending class on the day of a graded activity or when attendance contributes to a student's grade, for the reasons stated in Student Rule 7, or other reason deemed appropriate by the instructor.

Please refer to Student Rule 7 in its entirety for information about makeup work, including definitions, and related documentation and timelines.

Absences related to Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 may necessitate a period of more than 30 days for make-up work, and the timeframe for make-up work should be agreed upon by the student and instructor" (Student Rule 7, Section 7.4.1).

"The instructor is under no obligation to provide an opportunity for the student to make up work missed because of an unexcused absence" (Student Rule 7, Section 7.4.2).

Students who request an excused absence are expected to uphold the Aggie Honor Code and Student Conduct Code. (See Student Rule 24.)

Academic Integrity Statement and Policy

"An Aggie does not lie, cheat or steal, or tolerate those who do."

"Texas A&M University students are responsible for authenticating all work submitted to an instructor. If asked, students must be able to produce proof that the item submitted is indeed the work of that student. Students must keep appropriate records at all times. The inability to authenticate one's work, should the instructor request it, may be sufficient grounds to initiate an academic misconduct case" (Section 20.1.2.3, Student Rule 20).

You can learn more about the Aggie Honor System Office Rules and Procedures, academic integrity, and your rights and responsibilities at aggiehonor.tamu.edu.

University Attendance Policy

The university views class attendance and participation as an individual student responsibility. Students are expected to attend class and to complete all assignments.

Please refer to Student Rule 7 in its entirety for information about excused absences, including definitions, and related documentation and timelines.

Statement on the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

FERPA is a federal law designed to protect the privacy of educational records by limiting access to these records, to establish the right of students to inspect and review their educational records, and to provide guidelines for the correction of inaccurate and misleading data through informal and formal hearings.

Currently enrolled students wishing to withhold any or all directory information items can do so within howdy.tamu.edu using the Directory Information Withholding Form. The complete FERPA Notice to Students and the student records policy is available on the Office of the Registrar webpage.

Items that can never be identified as public information are a student's social security number, citizenship, gender, grades, GPR, or class schedule. All efforts will be made in this class to protect your privacy and to ensure confidential treatment of information associated with or generated by your participation in the class.

Directory items include name, UIN, local address, permanent address, email address, local telephone number, permanent telephone number, dates of attendance, program of study (college, major, campus), classification, previous institutions attended, degrees, honors and awards received, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, medical residence location, and medical residence specialization.

Notice of Nondiscrimination

Texas A&M University is committed to providing safe and non-discriminatory learning, living, and work environments for all members of the University community. The University provides equal opportunity to all employees, students, applicants for employment or admission, and the public, regardless of race, color, sex (including pregnancy and related conditions), religion, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, or veteran status.

Texas A&M University will promptly, thoroughly, and fairly investigate and resolve all complaints of discrimination, harassment (including sexual harassment), complicity, and related retaliation based on a protected class in accordance with System Regulation 08.01.01, University Rule 08.01.01.M1, Standard Administrative Procedure \(SAP\) 08.01.01.M1.01, and applicable federal and state laws. In accordance with Title IX and its implementing regulations, Texas A&M does not discriminate on the basis of sex in any educational program or activity, including admissions and employment.

The following person has been designated to handle inquiries and complaints regarding the non-discrimination policies: Jennifer M. Smith, TAMU Associate VP & Title IX Coordinator at YMCA Ste 108, College Station, TX 77843, 979-458-8407, or email civilrights@tamu.edu. For other reporting options, visit the U.S. Department of Education Office for Civil Rights Complaint Assessment System to locate the address and phone number of the office that serves your area, or call 1-800-421-3481.

Civil Rights, Free Speech, and Title IX Policies

Texas A&M University is committed to fostering a learning environment that is safe and productive for all. University policies and federal and state laws prohibit discrimination and harassment based on an individual's race, color, sex, (including pregnancy and related conditions), religion, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, veteran status, or any other legally protected characteristic. This includes forms of sex-based violence, such as sexual assault, sexual harassment, sexual exploitation, dating/domestic violence, and stalking.

Students can report discrimination/harassment, access supportive resources, or learn more about their options for resolving complaints on the University's Civil Rights & Title IX webpage.

Students should be aware that all university employees (except medical or mental health providers) are mandatory reporters, which means that if they observe, experience or become aware of an incident that they reasonably believe to be discrimination/harassment alleged to have been committed by or against a person who was a student or employee at the time of the incident, the employee must report the incident to the university.

Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Policy

Texas A&M University is committed to providing equitable access to learning opportunities for all students. If you experience barriers to your education due to a disability or think you may have a disability, please contact the Disability Resources office on your campus (resources listed below). Disabilities may include, but are not limited to, attentional, learning, mental health, sensory, physical, or chronic health conditions. All students are encouraged to discuss their disability-related needs with Disability Resources and their instructors as soon as possible.

To request academic accommodations, contact the designated ADA office based on your location:

- Texas A&M University, College of Nursing, College of Dentistry, Irma Lerma Rangel College of Pharmacy College Station, College of Medicine, School of Public Health, Institute of Biosciences and Technology, EnMed Program, Bush School in Washington DC, Mays Business School – CityCentre, TAMU Engineering Academies, Texas A&M University Higher Education Center at McAllen and Texas A&M University at Galveston should contact Disability Resources at (979) 845-1637 or disability@tamu.edu.

If you are experiencing difficulties with your approved accommodations, contact the office responsible for approving your accommodations or the Texas A&M ADA Coordinator Julie Kuder at ADA.Coordinator@tamu.edu or (979) 458-8407.

Pregnancy Accommodations

Texas A&M provides reasonable accommodations to students due to pregnancy and/or related conditions, such as childbirth, recovery, and lactation. Students should contact the University's Pregnancy Coordinator as soon as they become aware of the need for accommodation.

Depending on the circumstances, accommodations could include extended time to complete assignments or exams, changes in course sequence, or modifications to the physical classroom environment.

Texas A&M will also allow a voluntary leave of absence, ensure the availability of lactation space, and maintain grievance procedures to provide for the prompt and equitable resolution of complaints of sex discrimination. For information regarding pregnancy accommodations, email TIX.Pregnancy@tamu.edu.

Statement on Mental Health and Wellness

Texas A&M University recognizes that mental health and wellness are critical factors influencing a student's academic success and overall wellbeing. Students are encouraged to engage in healthy self-care practices by utilizing the resources and services available through University Health Services. The TELUS Health Student Support app provides access to professional counseling in multiple languages anytime, anywhere by phone or chat, and the 988 Suicide & Crisis Lifeline offers 24-hour emergency support at 988 or 988lifeline.org.

Texas A&M College Station

Students needing a listening ear can contact University Health Services at 979.458.4584. Call 911 or visit your nearest emergency room if you are currently experiencing a life-threatening situation or if your safety is at risk. 24-hour emergency help is also available through the 988 Suicide & Crisis Lifeline (988) or at 988lifeline.org.

Free Speech and Civil Discourse

Texas A&M recognizes that the pursuit of truth through open and robust discourse is critical to academic inquiry. However, as a community of scholars, the university has an aspirational expectation that such discourse will be conducted in accordance with Aggie Core Values. In this "marketplace of ideas," we encourage civil dialogue creating an environment that allows individuals to express their ideas and to have their ideas challenged in respectful and responsible ways. Students can learn more about Freedom of Expression and Free Speech on the University's website about the First Amendment.
